MEDIA RELEASE – JOY 94.9 raises funds to offer a Taste of Radio.

Australia's only gay and lesbian radio station, JOY 94.9, is proud to announce the money raised from the two signed AFL jumpers will provide Taste of Radio training spaces for four potential broadcasters in 2011.

The scholarships have been created in memory of the late Addam Stobbs.

Both jumpers were donated and signed by the 2010, Collingwood and Western Bulldogs teams.

After a feisty bidding war for the much sought after items, a hefty $1500 was raised for the cause. With the money raised, four member scholarship places will become funded for JOY's training program.

The course offers basic training in on-air presentation, media law, digital editing, interviewing, panel operation and much more. Classes run regularly throughout the year, one evening a week for eight weeks.

The scholarships honour the memory of the late Addam Stobbs, whom passed away unexpectedly in June, 2010. They will acknowledge his work as a respected broadcaster, trainer, JOY 94.9 life member and great contributor to the LGBT community. Addam's contribution to the LGBT community in Melbourne is widely recognised by his peers and students.

JOY 94.9 would like to thank all those that made bids for the signed Collingwood and Western Bulldogs football jumpers and helped raise money for our exciting and in depth, radio experience program, a Taste of Radio.
