JOY appoints Broadcast Manager

GLBTI Melbourne community broadcaster, JOY 94.9, is pleased to announce the appointment of Dean Murphy to the position of Broadcast Manger

Murphy previously held a program manager's role in 2005-2007 and has been involved within the radio industry in various positions, from on-air announcer to Program Director for 20 years.

He will manage the broadcasting aspect of JOY 94.9 including programming, outside broadcasting and presenter training and development.

Newly elected President, David McCarthy said, " This is an exciting time for JOY 94.9, the appointment of Dean will significantly strengthen our programming focus and resources. All our programming is a work in progress and we are extremely pleased to have been able to secure such a motivated and creative Broadcast Manager to our team. Dean will build on the very significant effort and achievements that Chris Jameson has brought to the role in the last few months. I want to place on record the Boards sincere thanks to Chris for a job well done under challenging circumstances."

Murphy will dive into the role from Monday 29 November, as JOY 94.9 continues to plan for the New Year program grid to coincide with Melbourne's GLBTI festival, Midsumma.
